Mr Gunpreet Singh has been employed by Just Virtual Food as Technical Lead from 1 July 2025 to the present day.

Just Virtual Food develops and operates virtual restaurant brands and the digital platforms that support them. During his employment, Mr Singh was responsible for the technical leadership of our software organisation and for the design, delivery and quality of our product platforms, in particular:

- the internal management system JMS (TypeScript, Fastify, Prisma, PostgreSQL, React)
- the partner-facing platform Partnerhub
- our mobile application and the surrounding backend services
- architecture, code quality, technical standards

In this role, Mr Singh independently planned, implemented and reviewed complex features across the full stack. He designed robust APIs and data models, improved existing modules, and ensured that new work remained maintainable, secure and aligned with our product goals. He also guided implementation decisions, reviewed code with care, and took ownership of delivery from first discussion through to production.

Mr Singh performed all of his duties always to our fullest satisfaction. He consistently delivered work of excellent quality, met agreed timelines, and handled even demanding and unfamiliar tasks with reliability, precision and a high degree of personal initiative.

He was always communicative, both within the engineering team and with non-technical stakeholders. He explained technical topics clearly, kept colleagues informed of progress and risks, and contributed constructively in planning sessions and reviews.

We particularly valued that Mr Singh regularly proposed well-considered solutions of his own. He did not limit himself to implementing requirements as stated; he questioned assumptions, suggested simpler or more durable approaches, and helped the team arrive at better technical decisions.

His conduct towards supervisors, colleagues and partners was always exemplary. He was a respected, dependable and cooperative member of the team and a positive influence on those around him.

We thank Mr Singh for his outstanding contribution to Just Virtual Food and confirm that we were always extremely pleased with his performance in every respect. We recommend him without reservation and wish him continued success and all the best for his future.
